

Fisher exact per model; * $p < .05$,  $p < .01$,  $p < .001$. Dashed line is the 20% chance floor. A model whose own bar exceeds the others' bar is recognising itself rather than merely writing identifiable prose; Grok's runs the other way.